

Privacy Policy

Effective Date: 06/10/2025

Company: Antares Technology LLC

Happy Linky respects your privacy. We do not collect personal data directly from you, and we do not require you to sign in or create an account. The game is playable entirely offline.

Information We Do Not Collect:

- We do not ask for or store your name, email address, location, or other personal identifiers.
- We do not collect gameplay behavior or device data directly.

Ads and Analytics:

Happy Linky displays ads using Google AdMob, which may collect data such as device identifiers and usage patterns to serve personalized or non-personalized ads. These practices are governed by Google's privacy policies.

You may manage your ad preferences through your device settings or Google settings.

Subscription:

You can choose to subscribe to remove ads. This is handled through the App Store and does not require any personal data sharing with us.

Children's Privacy:

Happy Linky is designed to be family-friendly. However, if you are under 13, please use the app with a guardian's supervision.
